INTRODUCTION

Dear participants, distinguished partners and innovators,

It is our pleasure to welcome you at the 6th annual Innovating Justice Forum 2015!

HiiL Innovating Justice in partnership with Ford Foundation and Next2Company has worked hard to prepare an inspiring, diverse and collaborative event about the role of justice innovation in the 21st century

We are proud to present a carefully selected group of top-notch justice innovators from all over the world. No matter whether they are addressing pressing justice needs of SMEs in East and West Africa through the SME Empowerment Innovation Challenge 2015, or whether they have presented highly relevant ideas that improve access to justice in general through the Innovating Justice Challenge 2015: these innovators are a stark example of how the different sectors of business, law, technology, and creative arts can effectively team up to enable justice worldwide.

The Forum also hosts a group of extraordinary speakers. Their input will enrich the present discourse and highlight some of the major justice challenges that we are facing today. We encourage you to join the interactive work sessions with the innovators and panelists, in order to let your voice be heard in improving justice across the globe.

Join us to innovate justice!

HiiL Event Organisation Team with the help of many others.

Don't hesitate to approach us if you need anything!

DIRECTIONS

HiiL Innovating Justice (Bezuidenhoutseweg 16A, 2594 AV, The Hague) is located a 5 minute walk from Den Haag Centraal (central station The Hague). From Den Haag Centraal, you can easily reach the Peace Palace by taking either:

Bus 24 (direction Kijkduin) or tram 1 (direction Scheveningen Noorderstrand) to bus/tram stop Vredespaleis (Peace Palace). Length: 10-13 mins (the bus/tram goes approximately every 10 mins). Beware that Bus 24 departs from an alleviated platform that is located right next to the main building of Den Haag Centraal. Tram 1 departs from the south entrance to Den Haag Centraal. You should be able to clearly see the Peace Palace once you get off the bus/tram at the Vredespaleis bus/tram stop.

For those who signed up for the Networking Dinner on 3 December, it will start at 18:30 at Restaurant: Babylon The Living Room, Hampshire Hotel - Babylon Den Haag (Bezuidenhoutseweg 53, 2594 AC The Hague). This is right across from HiiL premises.

For more information on the timetables and routes, please, consult the website of HTM, the bus and tram company for The Hague, at www.htm.nl. You can also refer to www.9292.nl which considers all means of public transport in the Netherlands.

PANELS AND WORKSHOPS: Day 1, Thursday 3 December 2015

Location: Hiil | Bezuidenhoutseweg 16A, 2594 AV The Hague

Discussion Panel: Tools for Innovators | 13:45 – 14:15

Moderator: Sam Muller | Panelists: Kaspar Scheltema, Philip Henneman and Jacques Schraven

The discussion panel is aimed at the six finalist innovators, to empower and inspire them to start the acceleration phase. The goal of the session is to find out which tools and partnerships are very valuable for innovators. The panelists share their experiences and knowledge from the perspective of the corporations they work(ed) for. What is their advice to these young entrepreneurs? What should they take into account when starting their business? Which tools, skills and actions are indispensable in order to become successful?

Justice Needs Workshops | 15:45 – 16:30

Facilitated by Marieke den Nijs, Olufunbi Falayi, Tsvetelina Mihaylova, Kavita Heijstek-Ziemann, Corry van Zeeland and Christina Moreno

Six workshops take place simultaneously; one for each innovator. Guests can decide to join the workshop of the innovator they are most interested in. The goal of the Justice Needs workshop is to enrich the innovator's current business concept and by doing so improve their pitch for the next day. This follows the "Why, How, What?" format. Why are you working on this? How are you moving others to join in? What exactly is your solution?

Day 2, Friday 4 December 2015

Location: Peace Palace, Carnegieplein 2, 2517 KJ The Hague

PLENARY

Cross-sector Innovation Discussion Panel | 10:00 – 10:45

Organised and moderated by Open Society Foundations, Sumaiya Islam | Panelists: Maha Jweied, Faustina Pereira, Hamadziripi Tamukamoyo, Roman Romanov

The adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Agenda, creates a specific target with regard to access to justice. This provides a crucial opportunity to bring more state and non-state actors on board to advance justice needs and legal empowerment. Target 16.3 asks countries to "promote the rule of law at the national and international levels in order to ensure equal access to justice for all." Today's justice challenges require innovative solutions. Two critical and interlinked issues have persistently arisen: how, while maintaining independence and offering high quality justice services can efforts produce results that can scale, and how can they operate in a financially sustainable manner. This panel will discuss essential partnerships and collaborative opportunities which can be established among international and regional organizations, countries, academia, civil society and private sector. This cooperation can effectively assist with planning, developing, implementing and reporting on progress with respect to SDG 16.3 and its impacts at different levels. Speakers will highlight different potential models and efforts that have been produced to strengthen the justice ecosystem and specific innovations in the field.

Jury Panel Discussion | 16:30 – 17:15

Moderated by Louis Bickford | Panelists: John Morrison, Anne van Aaken, Afolabi Imoukhuede, Fifi Baidoo and Martijn Snoep

How did the innovators perform today? What is the jury's assessment of today's pitches and justice innovations? What are the lessons learned that can be useful for other innovators out there? The panelists share their reflections from the perspective of their own career.

BREAKOUT SESSIONS:
INNOVATOR WORKSHOPS & CORPORATE CONNECTIONS

Innovator Workshops | 11:30 - 12:30 and 14:00 - 15:30

Six work sessions take place simultaneously, one for each innovator. Guests can decide to join the workshop of the innovator they are most interested in. Facilitated by Marieke den Nijs, Olufunbi Falayi, Tsvetelina Mihaylova, Kavita Heijstek-Ziemann, Corry van Zeeland and Christina Moreno

Six workshops, one for each innovator, invite guests to work together with the innovator to improve their business idea. The goal of the sessions is to discuss the main challenges of the innovator and to think of solutions to these challenges. Participants are invited to (a) provide the innovators with tips, ideas and thoughts on how to improve their business (b) create connections and provide valuable contacts to the innovators and (c) endorse specific actions for the innovators based on the tips and ideas brought forward.

Legal Information 2.0 | 11:30 - 12:30

Panelists: Jan Coos Geesink, Jin Ho Verdonschot, But Klaasen

It's hard to overlook the buzz around big, open and actionable data in the innovating justice context. Intelligent information sharing solutions do have tremendous potential to improve collaboration and accountability. We can see different variations on the theme in most justice innovations springing up around us. But what does data use imply in the justice sector, where confidentiality, privacy, verification and independence all exist as core values? Which revenue models can be useful considering the trend to make more data available? This work session is geared towards distilling tricks and frameworks that will help you navigate the data conundrums of justice innovation.

Aid2Trade in Rule of Law | 11:30 - 12:30

Panelists: Gerbert Hengelaar, Naina Patel, Prince Anim, Kees de Zeeuw and Tanja Gonggrijp

Developing rule of law abroad has traditionally been a mixture of building courts and offering trainings to judges, prosecutors and lawyers. All too often this meant using a top down approach that was rooted more in a paradigm of aid and assistance rather than trying to empower local actors and work with local solutions. There is now a growing understanding that only top down approaches doesn't work. Inclusive economic growth models and collaborative strategies becoming the new norm. The questions then become, how can we enable economic growth and trade while strengthening the rule of law environment? Which partnerships are needed? This discussion will explore relevant theory of change models and look at the growing coalition of entrepreneurship and trade oriented justice partners in the Netherlands and abroad. Furthermore, this session will address lessons learned and strategies that can help to make this movement even more effective.

Law firms: Empowering Justice Innovation? | 14:00 - 15:30

Panelists: Martijn Snoep, Corry van Zeeland and young Lawyers from the Brauw Blackstone Westbroek

Law firms, large and small are a crucial element in the justice supply chain. They are the experts of the intricacies of the sources and customs of legal practice. They can ensure that justice works perfectly through following existing procedures. At the same time, following those procedures to the letter can in some cases lead to unfairness. Work processes need to adjust to new technologies and new client expectations. Which role lawyers take in stimulating innovation, which partnerships are they interested in? What needs to happen to ensure that established and potential lawyers are better prepared for a field that is constantly evolving? What can they do to support justice entrepreneurship? This session allows for direct engagement on these topics with Martijn Snoep, Managing Partner at De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek.

Building Justice Cities | 14:00 - 15:30

Panelists: Mariken Gaanderse, Gideon Shimshon, Peter Kustermans

The Hague is the international city of Peace and Justice with a sturdy foundation in this sector. There are more than 100 organisations working in this field, offering employment to thousands of people each year. Despite the existence of legal institutions, think tanks and international development organisations; a large amount of citizens and a whole creative sector are still not engaged or connected to peace, justice and security impact. In some cases, different organisations are working side by side, yet have not found the best way forward to collaborate on joint priorities. How can further coordination around justice innovation be facilitated? How can justice entrepreneurship be encouraged in order to generate more employment in the region? In short: how can we create a justice city which is able to empower new solutions and scale its impact? In this session we will work on co-designing a strategy for The Hague, which can be implemented within the coming years. It aims to lay the foundations for a network of justice cities around the world.

DIYLaw | Nigeria

DIYLaw.ng is a female-owned one-stop online portal that makes registration and legal processes for entrepreneurs seeking to do business in Nigeria more accessible, professional, and transparent. It tackles obstacles to the registration of Nigerian enterprises such as bureaucracy, unaffordability, inability to access competent professionals, or lack of awareness regarding relevant processes. By doing so, it better enables Nigerian entrepreneurs to access finance.

mSMEGarage | Uganda

MSME Garage is a micro SME support center based in Uganda that provides free legal information, guidance, and support for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises. The uniqueness of the mSME Garage lies in its multi-pronged approach in delivering legal information. This is done through support and guidance for mSMEs using new and traditional media, together with a multi-level follow up system across the different stages of the mSME growth.

ShopOfficer | Kenya

ShopOfficer is a customer relationship management system (a smartphone application) for small and medium-sized businesses that have high volume, but low value transactions. It empowers SMEs by enabling them to account for every sale in real time and provide better customer service. Importantly, the system serves to reduce corruption via enhancing accountability, equal opportunity for the SMEs, and provide useful legal information.

Five-0 | United States of America

Five-0 is a mobile application that allows citizens to rate, review, and track their interactions with law enforcement in the United States. Its goal is to aggregate citizen data in order to measure an officer's demeanor, professionalism, fairness, and impartiality. It also allows citizens to discern which regions in the US provide poor law enforcement services, as well as highlight the agencies that are highly rated by their citizens.

CrowdDefend | United States of America

Crowd-Defend is an online crowdfunding platform pioneered toward helping individuals and organizations raise funds for legal cases that matter in the United States. In doing so, it helps expand access to justice for individuals, organizations, and businesses that cannot otherwise afford to hire counsel to defend or prosecute a case. Funds raised via the platform are then transferred to registered law firms, legal aid organizations, and legal defence funds, while contributors are able to track legal activity related to the cases they have contributed to.

Integrity Idol | Nepal

Integrity Idol involves a campaign, competition, and national TV show that is aired each fall to highlight the good work civil servants do across Nepal, Pakistan, and Liberia in a way that is creative, entertaining, and that encourages citizens to take action. Citizens of these countries acknowledge their bureaucratic systems are deeply corrupt, but there had been no opportunities to publicly celebrate and encourage the hard work of honest and just civil servants. The long-term goal of the Integrity Idol is to bring about changes in the behavior of civil servants, reduce corruption, and build integrity.

Peter Kustermans | Founder and Partner Next2Company

Peter is at the basis of a number of new initiatives and enterprises in the world of logistics, media, IT and healthcare. His extensive experience ranges from being Managing Director at Philips, a partner at Boer & Croon and co-founder of Sparked. As partner of Next2Company he has been working for more than a year now on taking the Innovating Justice Accelerator to the next level; reinforcing the organisation, building corporate partnerships and more recently, also working on the concept of Justice City.

Andras Vamos-Goldman | Executive Director, Justice Rapid Response

Andras helped to create, and is the Executive Director of Justice Rapid Response. Andras' vision is for the investigation of mass atrocities to be done as quickly and professionally as the investigation of any ordinary domestic crime. A relentless social entrepreneur (Ashoka fellow), an international lawyer and Canadian diplomat, Andras' involvement with international criminal justice includes playing an instrumental role in the establishment of the Sierra Leone Special Court and working on the creation of the International Criminal Court.

ATTENDANTS

Ingrid van Engelshoven | Vice-Mayor of The Hague

Ingrid has been the chairman of the national party since 2007. Since 2009 she has been a partner at the consultancy Dröge & Van Drimmelen and has served as the acting director of the Centrum voor Merk en Communicatie (CMC) in Amsterdam. Ingrid previously worked as deputy chairman of the D66 from 2000 to 2003. Furthermore, she has worked at the Ministry of Transport, Public Works and Water Management from 2000 to 2004 and as the director of Stichting Verantwoord Alcoholgebruik (STIVA) from 2004 to 2009.

Louis Bickford | Global Human Rights Programme, Ford Foundation

Louis Bickford manages the Global Human Rights program at the Ford Foundation, where he supports the international human rights movement and works with human rights organizations and activists in every world region. Prior to joining the Ford Foundation in 2012, he worked for the Robert F. Kennedy Center for Justice and Human Rights, the International Center for Transitional Justice, and as a consultant for the Oak Foundation, UNDP-Sarajevo, and the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Innocent Chukwuma | Representative West Africa, Ford Foundation

Innocent Chukwuma works at the Ford Foundation's office in Lagos, from where he oversees all grant making in the region. Before joining the Ford Foundation in 2013, he founded and led the CLEEN Foundation, to promote public safety, security, and accessible justice in West Africa. In addition, Innocent has held various posts within the Civil Liberties Organization, one of Nigeria's first human rights organizations. Innocent is the recipient of the Reebok International Human Rights Award and served as visiting lecturer at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government.
